

Bed Bug Heat Treatment

Here's what you need to know

So what's the process?

In order for the heat treatment to be successful, you will need to be out of your home until 6 pm. Your home will be heated to temperatures ranging from 122-138 degrees for a minimum 5 hours in order to ensure we kill bed bugs in all life stages.

Please double check that all heat sensitive items have been removed as we will not be responsible for any damaged goods done by the heat. Do not store things in your car or garage.

When you return to your home you will find some items may be out of place. During the treatment we move things around (sofas, linens, cushions, clothes, furniture, etc) in order to get the maximum heat where needed. Things may not be in the same place as they originally were and it will be your responsibility to relocate them as needed.

Place anything that may melt in a basket, if you cannot remove these items yourselves and mark DO NOT HEAT so the service technician can carefully check them for bed bugs and store them until the process is over.

Will my home be hot when I return?

You will be able to return to your home by 6 pm or the return time given by your heat technician. We have given your home a cool down period that will decrease the temperature quickly before you return. You will find that your home will still be warm upon arrival.

Will this ruin my electronics?

No this will not ruin your electronics. If we find electronics that we feel may be more heat sensitive we will move them into the bathroom.

What do I need to do to prepare before the service?

Below you will find a list of items to remove from your home. This list is extremely important to avoid damage to your home and belongings as well as allow us to heat your home to the proper temperatures to ensure we give you the best service possible. Pick up all clutter from your home and move your furniture away from the walls as much as possible to allow good heat flow throughout as we service your home.

Make sure there is no clothing, bedding or clutter anywhere in the home. Empty dressers and make small neat piles of clothes on the floor. Do not store items outside (balcony, patio or garages). All items you are keeping must be inside the home.

What do I need to do to the day of the service?

Parking: Be sure there is a parking space in front of your home or facility that is at least 22 feet long to allow a box truck to park. We need to be close enough to pull power from our generator as the heating equipment requires a lot of power to run the machines. If parking is unavailable we may have to reschedule the job and a trip charge will be incurred.

Be prepared for a technician to arrive between 8 am and 9 am in the morning on scheduled service date. Make sure your home is ready for service as we need to be able to start our equipment and run it for the proper amount of time to give you the best service possible. Any delays in the morning will delay the time that you are able to return back to your home.
